

Business Opportunities in the Field of Facility Agriculture in Jurong City

Background introduction

Jurong City is a county-level city under the jurisdiction of Zhenjiang in Jiangsu Province. It is connecting Zhenjiang in the east and Nanjing in the west. It is the southeast gateway of Nanjing. An emerging city in the Yangtze River Delta integrates port, industry, commerce and tourism. It was ranked 70th in China's Top 100 Counties in 2019.

Current situation

In recent years, Jurong's modern agriculture has developed rapidly, which is manifested in the remarkable achievements of characteristic agriculture, the rapid industrialization of agriculture, and the initial success of eco-tourism agriculture. Jurong has also planned a national-level comprehensive agricultural development high-tech demonstration zone, a provincial-level organic agriculture demonstration zone, and a municipal-level export-oriented agricultural development zone. The local government takes full advantage of local resources, committed to build a green food base and a rural leisure agricultural sightseeing tourist spot.

Business opportunities

1. Jurong Modern Agriculture Industry Demonstration Zone: Mainly for fresh fruit cultivation, covering an area of 28,000 mu. The zone is seeking modern technical guidance in tissue culture of strawberry seedlings in the early stage, picking and storage at the later stage.
2. Jurong Tow-gas Bauhinia Farm: The farm owns three glass greenhouses, four film greenhouses, covering an area of more than 60 million square meters. It is seeking technical guidance, communication and training, especially how to make good use of existing equipment and systems
3. Houbai Town: The town government plans to launch a greenhouse project of more than 100 Chinese mu. The fund will be from the provincial water conservancy department. A draft plan has been made. The location is selected. But the local town government does not know how to do exactly to push the project going ahead. Thus they are open for any proposals from the experienced Dutch companies/alliance.

For interested companies who want to get more details, please send an email to:

Netherlands Business Support Office Nanjing

nbsonanjing@nbsonanjing.com

Dr. Richard van Ostend / Chief Representative

Mr. Richard He / Deputy Representative